Satyarup Siddhanta is an Indian Mountaineer who is currently holding the Guinness world record for being the youngest in the world to have climbed the highest mountains of all the seven continents (7summits) and the highest volcanoes of all the seven continents (volcanic 7 summits). Satyarup has skied the last degree to South Pole and is gearing up for the last degree skiing in North Pole the coming April. Jan 2023, Satyarup became the fastest Indian to summit one of the toughest technical peaks – Mt Nelion of Mt Kenya in Kenya. Satyarup got the rarest opportunity to take part in country's first ever civilian-military adventure activities in 2022 by Eastern Command. ASEAN entrusted Satyarup & his team the mission to take the ASEAN flag, the Indonesia Flag and the India flag to the summit of Mt Carstenz Pyramid as a commemorative climb to mark the 50th Anniversary of ASEAN and 25th anniversary of Dialogue with India.

Satyarup is also a motivational speaker where he ignites young minds through his inspiring journey from being an asthmatic to a world record holder mountaineer. He has delivered speeches in 7+ countries at various platforms, at corporates and conferences in the likes of ASEAN headquarters, Jakarta, CERN, Geneva, INFN, Italy, TEDx platforms and many.

Satyarup conducts leadership retreats on the mountains and take people from multi-disciplinary, multi culture and different social backgrounds to places like Sandakphu, Everest Base Camp, Kilimanjaro and helps them experiencing breakthrough through his unique program.
